SELECTED PROFESSIONAL/TRADE ASSOCIATIONS IN INFORMATION

American Society for Information Science
8720 Georgia Avenue, Suite 501
Silver Spring, MD 20910
(301) 495-0900

The mission of ASIS is to advance information professionals and the field of information science. This is achieved by (1) providing methods of communication and continuing education for information professionals; (2) encouraging research, development and applications that advance the field of information science; and (3) increasing public awareness of the field and its benefits to society.

American Society of Indexers
1700 18th St NW
Washington, DC 20009

A national organization of individuals who work in, or educate others in, the indexing of databases as well as back-of-the-book indexing.

Association of American Publishers
One Park Avenue
New York, NY 10016
(212) 689-8920

A national association of producers of hardbound and softbound, general, educational, trade, reference, religious, scientific, techncial and medical books; instructional materials; systems of instructions; classroom periodicals; maps, globes, and tests.

Association for Computing Machinery
11 West 42nd St.
New York, NY 10036
(212) 869-7440

An association of computer scientists, engineers, physical scientists, business system specialists, analysts, and social scientists interested in computing and data processing.

Association for Information and Image Management
1100 Wayne Avenue, Suite 1100
Silver Spring, MD 20910
(301) 587-8202

An association that provides a forum which contributes to the effective development and application of information and image management systems.

COURTESY OF
MARJORIE HLAVA

Association for Federal Information Resources Managers
PO Box 11967
Alexandria, VA 22312
(202) 686-4601

An association of Federal and Private Sector representatives concerned with Information Resources Management within the Federal Government

Association of Records Managers and Administrators
PO Box 8540
Praire Village, KS 66208
(913) 341-3808

ARMA seeks to promote a scientific interest in records and information management; to provide a forum for research and the exchange of ideas and knowledge; and to furnish a source of records and information management guidance.

Association of Information and Dissemination Centers
PO Box 8105
Athens, GA 30603
(404) 542-7020

The purpose of ASIDIC is to foster, encourage, and improve research, development, production, processing, storage, dissemination, and use of computer-readable information and data. Members are database proders, database vendors, and organizations which do over 5000 searches per year.

Information Industry Association
555 New Jersey Avenue, NW
Suite 800
Washington, DC 20001
(202) 639-8262

IIA is composed primarily of representatives from producers and vendors of information services and products.

Information Resources Management Association
PO Box 648
Middletown, PA 17057
(717) 652-7794

IRMA is made up of individuals, for the most part from the academic community, concerned with Information Resources Management issues.

National Federation of Abstracting and Information Services
1429 Walnut St.
Philadelphia, PA 19102
(215) 563-2406

The purpose of NFAIS is to improve the extent and quality of the documentation and use of the world's literature through research programs, publications, and educational seminars.

National Information Standards Organization (NISO)
PO Box 1056
Bethesda, MD 20827
(301) 975-2814

NISO is the US information standards group representing the ANSI Z39 series and the ISO TAG 46. This voluntary body writes consensus standards which the information industry will implement. SGML and the Electronic Data Interchange format are NISO standards.

Society for Scholary Publishing
2000 Florida Avenue NW
Washington DC 20009
(202) 863-3982

The society serves as an educational forum for members who include librarians, book sellers, publishers, printers, authors, and editors interested in scholarly publication.

Special Libraries Association
1700 Eighteenth St. NW
Washington, DC 20009
(202) 234-4700

SLA is an association of 13,000 librarians and information professionals with a common interest in meeting information needs and putting knowledge to work. They represent business, research, educational and technical institutions, special departments of public and university libraries, newspapers, museaums, and all organizations, whether public or private that provide or require specialized information.

FIRST INTERNATIONAL SYMPOSIUM: NATIONAL SECURITY & NATIONAL COMPETITIVENESS: OPEN SOURCE SOLUTIONS Proceedings, Volume I - Link Page

Return to Electronic Index Page